Plan to Participate

KANSAS OFFICIAL RECORDS COMMITTEE

At the December 6, 1981, KOS Board Meeting, action was taken to establish an Official Records Committee. President Ely acted shortly thereafter and appointed eight people to this committee. Since appointment this committee has developed an Unusual Bird Report Form, prepared a list of Kansas birds on which "Information is Needed". This list is in addition to the Audubon Societies "Blue List", the Federal and State Endangered and Threatened lists and the state list of those "In Need of Conservation". The committee has also prepared committee rules for operation.

The committee is now functional and unusual bird reports should be submitted on the new form.

2. To review reports of species - new or rare in the state - and provide final judgment of their status. Maintain an official Kansas list. Judgments of the committee with editorial comments will be provided in an annual report at the fall meeting of the Society. A single official list will be maintained with the following information annotated for every species:
 - a. (1) Specimen available
(2) Photograph (accepted by the committee)
(3) Sight Record (accepted by the committee)
 - b. Number of species in each of the above categories listed, as possible.
 - c. Breeding status past or present in Kansas.
 - d. List of species on which information is needed and what specific information is needed.
3. Disseminate information through the KOS Bulletin or Newsletter to assist KOS members in developing knowledge and skills.

- B. The purpose of the committee is to serve the professional and amateur KOS member and to promote and help maintain a high degree of quality, integrity and professionalism. For the committee to function, it needs the complete support of all interested persons in the state. Individuals should feel free to dispute in the open literature, the published opinions of the committee, and vice-versa.

III. MEETINGS

- A. Most committee work will be handled by correspondence with one meeting each year at the annual meeting of the society. Other meetings may be held as desired by the Chairperson.

Cornell University's Laboratory of Ornithology has begun publication of a new magazine devoted to the study of birds, The Living Bird Quarterly.

Color-illustrated and directed toward everyone with an interest in birds, the quarterly will feature articles and photographs on bird behavior, habitat, conservation, art and research, and will be international in scope. The first issue, for example, contains articles on the reproductive success of songbirds, the conservation efforts of the International Crane Foundation, the restoration to the Maine coast of the Atlantic puffin population, and a direct-from-life color painting and story by artist and author George Miksch Sutton.

In addition to articles written by professional writers and ornithologists, the laboratory will encourage amateur "birders" to contribute. This is part of the larger mission and tradition of the Laboratory of Ornithology--to act as liaison between the amateur and professional ornithologist and to encourage people's interest and increase their knowledge of living birds.

The quarterly, which began publication in July, will be sent to laboratory members and will replace its annual publication, The Living Bird.

The Laboratory of Ornithology is the only recognized institution of its kind in the world. It was founded in 1957 by eminent ornithologist and photographer Arthur A. Allen and pioneer bird sound recordist Peter Paul Kellogg.

More information on the quarterly and other activities of the laboratory can be obtained by writing: Laboratory of Ornithology, Sapsucker Woods, Ithaca, NY 14850. Telephone (607) 256-5056.

NEW WILDLIFE AREAS BILL GOES INTO EFFECT 1 MAY 1982

The Newsletter Editor received the following Kansas statute from Mr. Robert M. Vaughan of Wichita presenting changes and regulations governing wildlife areas. The Board of Directors of KOS have not had time to research this bill, but it appears that it could have serious consequences for birdwatchers using Cheyenne Bottoms and other state wildlife areas. This will be brought before the Board of Directors at the Winter Board Meeting in January, and by that time we should have more information concerning this regulation's implications.

"23-8-11. Wildlife areas; use restrictions. (a) Hunting, shooting, killing, taking, trapping, injuring, pursuing, molesting, or disturbing in any way any bird or animal on or within wildlife areas shall be prohibited, except areas or portions of areas as may be opened, during the legal open season or some part of it, to any of these activities by commission regulation or by posted notice. In the event the director deems it advisable or necessary to restrict the use of hunting equipment on those wildlife areas open to hunting, the director may effect the restrictions by posted notice. In the event the commission deems it advisable or necessary to restrict any public use on any wildlife area or portions of an area, the commission may effect restrictions by posted notice.

"(B) Blinds may be used on any wildlife area, but shall be portable or on a temporary basis constructed of natural materials available on the blind site. The digging of holes or pits shall be prohibited.

"(Authorized by and implementing K.S.A. 32-224; effective January 1, 1966; amended May 1, 1980; amended May 1, 1983.)

DUES FOR 1982

Dues envelopes will be sent out to members in early December. This is a departure from previous years when we have mailed them in September. PLEASE remit promptly as we spend a good deal of money on dues reminders. Try to remit by return mail. This will help you and help your society.

ENLIST A MEMBER

Your society needs more members. We lost quite a few last year including some long-time members who simply forgot to mail in their dues. If you have friends who are interested in birds, tell them about KOS. Christmas Counts always have a lot of nonmembers and this would be a good place to recruit. Just think if Manhattan could enlist all Christmas Count participants as members, our society would increase by one-fourth more. Compilers could accept dues and forward them to the editor with names and addresses.

The following is a list of Christmas Counts and their dates if known. Those that that are unknown, contact the compiler.

BURROWING OWL COLORMARKING: REQUEST FOR INFORMATION

In 1982 burrowing owls were colormarked in south-central Saskatchewan during a research program investigating movements of these owls during the breeding season. Information is requested from anyone seeing a colormarked owl to aid in determining migration routes and wintering areas which are presently unknown. Each owl carries a Fish and Wildlife band and from one to three colored plastic leg jesses. Jess colors are yellow, flourescent red, light blue, and dark green and are one centimeter wide and extend approximately 1.5 cm beyond the leg.

Persons observing colormarked owls please record the following: location, date, color and position of leg jess or jesses, leg of attachment of metal leg band and jess or jesses, and any details of the owl's situation. Please send this information to, Bird Banding Office, Canadian Wildlife Service, Ottawa, Ontario, Canada, K1A 0E7 plus an additional copy to the bander, Elizabeth A. Haug, Dept. of Veterinary Anatomy, University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, S7N 0W0. Thank you for your assistance.

NOTE: Owls were banded with colored leg jesses in Saskatchewan and with colored leg bands in Manitoba. Please note this difference if marked birds are seen.
